I want some fucking answers. I want someone to take some fucking responsibility for this shit.

A friend of mine, 39 years old, no previous health complications or conditions just died from Pneumonia. He was in isolation at the hospital, they're testing his body postmortem for COVID-19. I guarantee he had it with all I know. Coughing fits so hard it would make him pass out, which he did often and once he fell and hit his head. He was a good man, a real brother and would give the shirt off his back to you if he liked you. The world lost a good one in him.
You know how people are saying shit like "Do we know anyone who has died from this? I haven't heard anyone who's died from this."
Well anons - I think this is my first. I'm in Kentucky

we might have a clear answer as to who this weapon belongs to in a few years, but logically, why would the creators of the virus admit to it? give it time, hopefully you survive long enough to see the answer revealed. i personally don't care who made it, i just want to watch society collapse.

No I don't hold him personally responsible. That'd be retarded. As our President though, in times of crisis, I'd like for him to at least tell the truth, though I know he will never name who's really to blame. I know it's naive. The guy that died was just a really good friend and it's just upsetting to think that he may have died from this bullshit chink flu. We should nuke China off the fucking map. Fucking nasty bugs
